17 INITIATIVES THAT COULD TRANSFORM THE WORLD BY 2030

Come learn about the new UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) that were adopted this fall by over 150 world leaders!

While the Millennium Development Goals from 2000-2015 made enormous progress in reducing poverty, hunger, disease, and gender inequality, the new goals commit to going further. The SDGs apply to all countries in addressing the root causes of poverty, inequality, and climate change. Join our discussion on the universal need for sustainable development for our people & our planet.
