

UNA PASADENA COFFEE TALK

THE UNITED NATIONS IN AN EVER CHANGING WORLD

Since its inception, the United Nations has been the subject of both ecstatic praise and severe criticism. After over 70 years of existence, has the U.N. effectively changed to meet the diverse demands of an increasingly complex geopolitical stage?

HOW IS THE U.N. DOING IN ITS MISSION?

Join UNA Pasadena for a fascinating discussion of what ways the United Nations works well in the 21st century and what challenges it faces to adapt to a changing world. Sebastian Zacharia will enlighten us on how ordinary people have a role to play in influencing the U.N. and its success or failure in accomplishing crucial global goals.
